Thank you to the Qureshi family for letting your goats become a permanent part of Land's Sake!

GET TO KNOW THE GOATS

Stacia

One of the oldest of the bunch and certainly the boss! She is Glinda's sister and has no babies of her own, but is everyone's favorite aunt! Stacia is most distinguished by her long beard and belly hair. She is typically the first to approach visitors and ask for head scratches. Her favorite place to hangout is on top of the picnic table or basking in the sun on the stones.

Glinda

The other oldest lady, and a gentle giant! Glinda is Stacia's sister and mother to Kohlrabi, Zaazey, and Poppy. She is easily recognized by her large white spot on her belly. She is nurturing at heart and a little more timid to approach. Once you win her over with some scratches you won't be able to get rid of her! You will often find her snuggling up with Poppy or showing Kohlrabi and Zaazey how to headbutt.

Kohlrabi

One of Glinda's first babies, twin sister to Zaazey, and mom to Bean. Kohlrabi is a spoiled girl who loves attention. She is easily recognized by her all dark brown hair and long beard. Kohlrabi enjoys tagging along with Stacia when new visitors enter the pasture and is one of our best at wearing a halter. She can be found scratching her body on a nearby post or snuggling with Bean and Glinda.

Zaazey

Daughter of Glinda, twin sister to Kohlrabi, and mom of Zelda. Zaazey is a sassy girl that deserved a name as jazzy as her personality! She is most recognizable by her lighter brown coat. She is constantly on the lookout for good snacks and is always happy to put her halter on for a food reward. Zaazey is a snuggle bug and who you'll probably find wherever the food is or basking in the sun with Zelda.

Poppy

Poppy is Glinda's youngest daughter and most recognizable by her horns and big white spot on her belly (like her mom!).

Do not let her tiny size fool you, she will run laps when halter training and gallop in fresh snow! She loves getting scratches between the horns or under her chin. She is typically running around the pasture, practicing her head-butting skills with mom Glinda, or curling up with the crew in the sun to warm up.

Bean

Kohlrabi's daughter and Glinda granddaughter, Bean is the tiniest and shyest of the ladies. She is most recognizable by her horns and all dark brown coat (like her mom!). She is often hanging around behind the pack, waiting to assess the situation before joining in. Bean is the BEST at climbing up the ramp in the stalls and watching over the others from above. Bean is great on her halter and can usually be found snuggling next to her mom Kohlrabi.

Zelda

Zaazey's daughter and Glinda granddaughter, Zelda is a spunky youth who brings so much personality to the group! She is easily recognizable by her horns and lighter coat (like her mom!). She is always curious to explore new visitors and join in on the fun. She is one of our best on the halter and we can't wait to see what mischief she gets up to in the future. Zelda can often be found snuggling up with mom Zaazey or running around with Poppy and Bean.
